Student Activities

We encourage students to take advantage of on-campus student activities at Greystone to pursue personal interests, meet other students, and hone professional skills. There are many benefits to being involved in student activities. In general, involved students achieve higher grades, develop better leadership and organizational skills, have more friends, and feel more connected to the college.

All student activities outside of Residence Life are organized through the Student Programming Involvement and Community Engagement (SPICE) board, which meets once every three weeks on Monday evening in the Ventura Center. All students are welcome to attend these meetings to present ideas for upcoming activities and events. Once an event is approved through SPICE, information will be advertised on the Grapevine, CIA Main Menu, the Ventura Center PowerPoint, and table tents. A calendar of events can also be found on CIA Main Menu under Campus and Student Life > The Grapevine—Greystone. When appropriate, signups will be posted on CIA Main Menu. Only current CIA students, faculty, and staff are permitted to take part in these activities. For more information about current activities or starting new activities, contact the student life coordinator.

Clubs and Organizations

We encourage students to take advantage of a number of on-campus student clubs to pursue personal interests, meet other students, and hone professional skills. There are many benefits to being involved in student organizations. In general, such students achieve higher grades, develop better leadership and organizational skills, have more friends, and feel more connected to the college. The following clubs were active at the time of publication:

- International Student Club
- La Chef
- The Outdoor Adventure Club
- PRIDE Club
- Veterans Support
- Wine Club
- Yoga Club

Organizing a Student Event

If students would like to organize an event on campus, the planning process should begin well in advance of the anticipated event date. Please see the assistant director of student life in the Education Office for more information.
