

International Studies Semester-Away Fee for Concentrations

Students in the bachelor's degree programs may choose to do a concentration that includes a semester away as part of their program. Those students who choose to do a concentration at one of our international locations will be charged this fee to cover the increased costs associated with the experience. Rates will be announced prior to registration for the semester and currently average $3,000. The fee may be partially offset if the student applies for and is awarded the Anthony Bourdain '78 Legacy Scholarship.