

Photography, Videos, and Intellectual Property

Periodically, photographers and videographers will be on campus to take photographs or videos that may be used in CIA advertising, in publications, or on our website. As a condition of enrollment, students grant The Culinary Institute of America the right to reproduce, use, exhibit, display, broadcast, distribute, and create derivative works of college-related photographs, videotapes, or other electronic media that include their image or their participation in classes for use in promoting, publicizing, or explaining the college and its activities. If students do not wish to have their image or class projects used by the CIA in this way, please contact the director of creative services at the New York campus by emailing Terri.Totten@culinary.edu.

Also, students are not allowed to use any intellectual property of The Culinary Institute of America (including, but not limited to, CIA photography, videos, and logos) without the permission of the director of creative services.