

BPSE-409 : Field Experience and Action Plan

This Independent Study elective course offers students the opportunity to explore a key issue in the community. Students will select a local agency for which to volunteer; keep a journal of their experience; and develop a paper analyzing their experience, the larger social issues that the agency addresses, and the personal changes that resulted from involvement with the agency. (Enrollment only by permission of the dean and the instructor of the course.)

Credits 3

Prerequisites

College Writing (LITC-100) or College Writing for ELLs (LITC-100A).